Highrock Remodeling

Creative collaboration with the homeowner led to a one of a kind lower level retreat for everything from watching football with friends to family movie night. This project showcases the remodeler's eye for design and attention to architectural detail.

The finished lower level features a wet bar with custom cabinetry, granite countertop, contemporary glass backsplash, and accented over and under cabinet lighting. The cozy fireplace warms up the entertaining area with its distinctive dry stack stone and modern mantle. The lower level also offers additional space for a home gym. The bathroom, with its high-end finishes, is creatively located providing privacy. No matter the activity, the lighting can be controlled throughout the entire space with the one-touch intelligent lighting system.

With the completion of this project, Highrock Remodeling's craftsmanship and eye for design has exceeded the homeowner's expectations and made the lower level the place to be.
